NEW YEAR WEDDINGS

Marriages That Are Classed as Brilliant Social Events in Newport News and Wytheville.

VERY PRETTY DECORATIONS

Mary Byrd Dimmock Bride of Mr. Wellford and Sue Peyton Kent Weds Mr. Broun.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WYTHEVILLE, Va., Jan. 6.—The marriage of Miss Sue Peyton Kent, of this place, to Mr. Edmund Fontaine Broun, of Charleston, W. Va., which was solemnized in St. John's Episcopal Church on this evening at 6 o'clock, was the social event of the winter.

The bride is one of the handsomest and most accomplished women in the State, while the groom is a gentleman of high standing, wide culture and many friends, both in his own State and in Virginia.

The bride is the daughter of the late Colonel Joseph F. Kent, a gallant officer of the Stonewall Brigade, and Mrs. Virginia Peyton Kent, and on both sides the couple are connected by blood and marriage with many of the most prominent and oldest families of the State.

The groom is the son of Major Thomas L. Broun, who was also a well known and distinguished lawyer of Charleston, W. Va. The groom is also a lawyer by profession, a college and club man, and a man of affairs, and is regarded as one of the rising men of his State.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Walter P. Logan, D. D., a cousin of the bride, and the rector of St. John's Church. Some fifteen hundred invitations had been sent out to friends in many States, and when the hour appointed for the service arrived, the church was crowded to overflowing.

The most distinguished audiences ever assembled in Wytheville. The body of the church and the chancel were beautifully decorated. At the organ Miss Goodwin rendered the processional and recessional music, and the wedding march was played by the ushers were Messrs. Tyler G. Kent, Robert Sayers, Jr., C. L. Trinkle and Alfred Gregory, Jr., and these gentlemen had burst open. Then was made a discovery that caused surprise to all and no little excitement.

The wedding was followed by a reception held in the parlors of the Hotel Warwick, where Mr. and Mrs. Wellford received the congratulations of friends and relatives, and then at the hotel an elegant luncheon was served to the bridal party and guests.

The out-of-town guests were P. A. Wellford, Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Wellford, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Wellford, Miss Martha Purcell, Mr. John Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Spicer, Mrs. Charles Dimmock, Mrs. B. F. Nolan, of Gloucester County, and Miss Mary Donnan, Mr. Phil- lipson, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Anderson, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Bryan, of Hampton, Va.; Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Winn, of the same county.

The groom is a native of Richmond, and is now employed in the cashier's office of the shipyard here.

The nuptial festivities were brought to a close with a formal dinner at the Army to which were invited the bridesmaids and the groomsmen.

The bride and groom left for Florida, where they will spend their honeymoon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) BLACKSTONE, Va., Jan. 6.—A marriage of unusual local interest, solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, took place at 3 o'clock, when her daughter, Miss Etta, became the bride of Hon. W. C. Winn, of the same county.

A large gathering of friends were present, many coming from quite a distance. Several of these gathered at the home of Mrs. Gee last night, where quite a house party was held.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. P. Gee, a member of the bride's family, while the groom's sixteen-year-old son by his former wife acted as best man. Miss Winn, the daughter of the groom, was maid of honor.

The bride is a sister of Dr. E. C. Gee, of Richmond, and is possessed of many personal charms, which endear her to a wide circle of friends.

The groom is well known in this section and throughout the State, having served a term in the State Senate from this district, and a prominent business man and politician. He has for a number of years been chairman of the Board of Supervisors of his county.

The presents received were many and handsome, which attested the wide popularity of the couple.

The happy pair were driven to this place this afternoon, from which they will visit Old Point, Baltimore, Washington and other Northern points.
